in the Lake Okeechobee area

OCTOBER -
DECEMBER 2019

Lake Okeechobee area offers lots of 'things to do'

The rural counties around Lake Okeechobee offer a surprising variety of activities for those who take the time to explore the area.

Entertainment

The Big Lake area offers many entertainment options. The Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center at Palm Beach State College's Belle Glade campus presents a variety of cultural and entertainment performances. Indian River State College in Fort Pierce offers an annual series of concerts and plays showcasing student performers. Okeechobee, LaBelle and Sebring have active community theatre organizations that produce plays featuring local performers.

Many local clubs and organizations have weekly dinners with live entertainment, as well as special dinner/dances. Fundraising events for local charities include concerts and dances.

October brings the Dachshund races at the KOA Oktoberfest in Okeechobee.

Festivals and parade

The holiday season brings festivals and parades to the lake area. Many communities host family-friendly Halloween events.

January starts Florida's annual festival season with events that celebrate area history and the state's winter and spring harvests.

Outdoors

By land, sea or air, Lake Okeechobee is beautiful! Residents and visitors have plenty of options for outdoor fun!

Airboat tours allow participants to see otherwise hidden parts of Florida. Airboats skim across the surface of the water, exploring marshes along the lake shore, the Kissimmee River or the Everglades.

For a spectacular view of the Big O, consider a plane ride or skydiving. Airglades Airport has hosted skydiving for more than 30 years.

"Mudding" is also popular in the Big Lake area with venues dedicated to those who like driving a big truck or ATV through the muck.

Lake Okeechobee is a world class fishing destination and attracts major professional bass fishing tournaments every year. The lake is also renown for Speckled Perch (aka Black Crappie). Okeechobee is know as the "Speckled Perch Capital of the World."

Hunting is also popular in the Big Lake area. Hunting opportunities include deer, dove, quail, squirrel, rabbit, turkey, waterfowl, duck, wild hog, fur bearers and Burmese pythons. Hunting seasons are zoned in Florida. Check the Florida Fish and Wildlife Commission website as www.myfwc.com for details.

State parks offer opportunities for hiking, bicycling, camping, kayaking, canoeing, fishing, stargazing and other outdoor fun. For information on parks, go online to floridastateparks.org.

• Arnold's Wildlife Rehabilitation Center, 14895 N.W. 30th Terrace, Okeechobee, FL 34972 is open seven days a week from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The center cares for injured and orphaned native wildlife with the goal of returning the animals to the wild when possible. It is also a permanent home for animals whose injuries make it impossible for them to survive on their own, as well as non-native exotic animals that were confiscated by Florida Fish and Wildlife or turned in by owners who can no longer care for their exotic pets. Arnold's Wildlife Center also has a butterfly garden.

The center asks for a $10 donation from adults; children are admitted free. As a small non-profit, Arnold's Wildlife runs on the kindness of others. Donation of cash, towels, dog food, cat food or canned fruit are welcome. For more information online go to <https://arnoldswildliferehab.weebly.com>.

Enjoy the outdoors at area state parks

Special to 101+ Things to Do

Cooler weather brings even more opportunities to enjoy Florida State Parks, including some in the Big Lake area.

101+ Things to Do/Michael Muros

Florida State Parks offer plenty of trails for horseback riding, hiking and bicycling.

Highlands Hammock State Park

One of Florida's oldest parks, opening to the public in 1931, Highlands Hammock was established when local citizens came together to promote the hammock as a candidate for national park status. During the Great Depression, prior to World War II, the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) developed additional park facilities and the beginnings of a botanical garden.

Acquired by the state in 1935, it has grown over the years and now has 15 distinct natural communities in its more than 9,000 acres that include large tracts of pine flatwoods, hydric hammock, cypress swamp, and baygall. Several of the communities are designated as imperiled or of concern, such as the Florida scrub, scrubby flatwoods, and cutthroat seep.

It is one of the highest ranking parks in Florida for endemic biodiversity. The park is known for its beautiful old-growth hammock and thousand-year-old oaks. Ferns and air plants are abundant. Black bear and the Florida panther tread softly through the hammock and may be glimpsed occasionally. An elevated boardwalk with an historic catwalk traverses cypress swamp, and visitors may observe alligators, birds and other wildlife. Many visitors enjoy bicycling the scenic three-mile loop drive or hiking the park's nine nature trails.

Picnicking, bird-watching, and ranger-guided tours of the park are other popular activities. The tram tour, which is fully accessible, allows visitors the unique opportunity to view birds, alligators, turtles, deer and other wildlife relatively close-up, in areas of the park that are restricted to public access. Catch-and-release fishing and picnicking are available at the nearby Seven Lakes management unit. Highlands Hammock provides a full-facility campground, as well as a youth / group tent campground. A recreation hall is available for rental, as are several picnic pavilions. A museum showcasing the history of the CCC is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Highlands Hammock is located on Hammock Road (County Road 634), four miles west of U.S. 27 in Sebring.

Kissimmee Prairie State Park

OKEECHOBEE — This 54,000-acre preserve protects the largest remaining stretch of Florida dry prairie, home to an array of endangered plants and animals. While driving the five-mile-long road into the preserve, visitors can enjoy sweeping vistas of grasslands reminiscent of the Great Plains of the Midwest. The preserve offers excellent seasonal birding opportunities and is home to the endangered Florida Grasshopper Sparrow, as well as the Crested Caracara and Burrowing Owl. More than 100 miles of dirt roads allow hikers, bicyclists and equestrians to explore prairies, wetlands and shady hammocks. November through March, ranger-led prairie buggy tours allow visitors to see remote areas of the preserve. Kissimmee Prairie's remoteness makes it one of Florida's premier locations for stargazing. For overnight stays, the preserve has two full-facility campground loops: family and an equestrian campground with paddocks. Proof of current negative Coggins test is required for all horses.

Kissimmee Prairie State Park in northern Okeechobee County is home to a wide variety of wildlife. The park is popular with nature lovers, photographers and star gazers.

Sebastian Inlet State Park, 9700 South Highway A1A is a popular spot for surfing and saltwater fishing.

federally designated Wild and Scenic River, runs through the park. Ranger-guided tours of the 1930s pioneer homestead of Trapper Nelson are available year-round. Visitors can enjoy paved and off-road biking, equestrian, and hiking trails. Boating, canoeing, and kayaking along the river are also great ways to see the park. Anglers can fish along the riverbank or from a boat. The nature and history of the park comes to life through exhibits and displays in the Elsa Kimbell Environmental Education and Research Center. Programs for the kids, or for the whole family, are also offered here. The park also offers two full-facility campgrounds and a youth/group primitive campground. Visitors can arrange boat tours of the river and rent canoes, kayaks, and motorboats by calling 561-746-1466. Located 12 miles south of Stuart on U.S. 1.

St. Lucie Inlet Preserve State Park

This classic Florida barrier island is accessible only by boat, but it is worth the ride. A boardwalk takes visitors across mangrove forests and hammocks of live oaks, cabbage palms, paradise trees, and wild limes to a neatly preserved Atlantic beach. During the summer months, the island is an important nesting area for loggerhead, leatherback, and green turtles. They come ashore at night to dig holes in the beach sand where they lay their eggs. The preserve is a favorite for nature students interested in learning about the native flora and fauna of Florida barrier islands. Visitors come to swim, sunbathe, or picnic at the pavilion on the quiet beach. Others make the trip for the great surf fishing. Snorkeling and scuba diving are also popular activities. St. Lucie Inlet Preserve State Park is located in Port Salerno, on the Intracoastal Waterway, 2/3 of a mile south of the St. Lucie inlet.

John D. MacArthur Beach State Park

A unique mixture of coastal and tropical hammock and mangrove forest, this barrier island provides a haven for several rare or endangered native tropical and coastal plant species. The park's nature center shows visitors why the park is a biological treasure. Visitors can swim, picnic and surf at the beach; snorkeling is also a popular activity. Birdwatchers can see herons, brown pelicans, terns, sandpipers and gulls. Anglers can fish in the lagoon by wading or kayaking. Additionally, visitors can fish from non-swimming areas of the beach. John D.

MacArthur Beach State Park is located 2.8 miles south of the intersection of U.S.1 and PGA Blvd. on A1A in North Palm Beach.

Okeechobee Battlefield Historic State Park

Okeechobee Battlefield is the site of one of Florida's significant battles during the Second Seminole War. The Battle of Okeechobee, fought on Christmas Day, 1837, involved more than 1,000 United States military and volunteer soldiers, fighting against several hundred Seminole and Miccosukee warriors along the northern edge of Lake Okeechobee. The battle is considered a turning point in the war with full-scale attacks ceasing and the number of smaller skirmishes diminishing after the event. The park is located at 3500 S.E. 38th Ave. in Okeechobee County.

High Noon Riders enjoy camping at Hickory Hammock

By Tom Timmons

Special to the Lake Okeechobee News

HIGHLANDS COUNTY — The High Noon Riders, is a loose group of friends who get together several times a year, usually in the cooler winter weather, to camp, ride horses and enjoy each others company. Mike Burroughs, of Okeechobee, and his wife Sherry Burroughs have been members of this social group for a number of years, and recently were camping at the Hickory Hammock Equestrian camping area off of U.S. 98 in Highlands County. On this particular weekend they were joined by their son Wesley, Bo Bowman of Okeechobee, Linda Bess of Kenansville, and Julie Lisle of Palm City.

The name of the group, according to Mike, comes from the fact that by the time they get up in the mornings, make and enjoy breakfast, have a second or third cup of coffee, and get the horses ready to ride, it's already, "High Noon." This was actually illustrated when I visited, as we sat around in the shade for a while talking and getting to know the campers, and after a while they began to drift away to clean up and saddle their horses to get ready for the day's ride.

The outings, which usually take place over a long weekend, are held once or twice a month during the cool Florida winters and take place in various places like Hickory Hammock, and the Dupuis

Preserve near Indiantown. Members of the group travel in with large trailers that feature living quarters, a tack room and room for one, or several horses. At Hickory Hammock, several of the trailers were parked in a loose circle, and temporary fence was put up for the horses. They travel completely self-sufficiently, with generators, water and feed for the animals and tend to rough it comfortably.

The Hickory Hammock equestrian campground is under the control of South Florida Water Management and was an unexpected delight and seemed to be one of South Florida's best kept secrets. It's found three miles east of U.S. 98 on McArthur Road, a shell rock lane, just south of Lorida, Fla. behind a locked gate. It is primitive camping with no power and no potable water, and features at least 20 campsites, some in the open, others with good shade, and most importantly it is FREE! There are composting toilets, and a shower available at the campground, however, to stay at any of the campgrounds under the control of South Florida Water Management, you go to the website and request a Special Use License for the dates you want to stay. Water Management responds with a permit that includes the four-digit code to open the lock at the gate, and you are set to go. South Florida Water Management rules state that you may stay up to eight days at a time, and a total of 30 days a year at no cost. Additional to the campsites, there is a large livestock barn, clean and tidy, with about ten stalls, a couple of covered pavilions, and there is a caretaker or camp host who lives on the site and keeps everything spotless. Hickory Hammock is truly a great area for horse camping as the High Noon Riders illustrate.
